Corner Stone of Scottish Rite Temple Will Be Laid Today.

Review of History of Masonry in Utah-- Former Homes and Men Prominent in the Order.

ODAY, in the year of our Lord 1905, marks the laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic Temple at Second East and First South streets. The ceremony will be performed at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Grand Master C. S. Varian, assisted by Grand Secretary Christopher Diehl, Grand Treasurer John S. Scott, Deputy Grand Master C. S. Badcoy of Ogden, Senior Grand Warden W. J. Barrette, Junior Grand Warden James H. Brown and Herbert Macmillan of Ogden, Grand Orator of the Day. The ceremonies will consist of the reading by Grand Secretary Diehl of the documents to be placed in the cornerstone and their formal placing in the copper box by the Grand Master and the laying of the first shovel-full of mortar.

A great transition will this be when it comes to pass, the moving into the splendid new temple; a transition which not even those early soldier-Masons, filled though they were with the optimism of the west, could have foreseen, however much they hoped; a transition which went on despite decades of hindering influences. a
